New Transfer Agreements with Out-of-State Universities

Santa Rosa Junior College has signed transfer agreements with a number of out-of-state universities for admission to their bachelors degree programs. These agreements guarantee that SRJC students will be admitted to those programs.

Capella University (Minnesota) grants online bachelors degrees in eight subject areas, will admit SRJC students who have completed as few as 40 semester units, and accepts IGETC. Capella will waive the application fee and grant a 10% tuition discount.

Excelsior College (New York) offers online bachelors degrees in five subject areas and will grant credit for CSU-transferable coursework completed at SRJC. In addition SRJC students will receive large discounts on fees and a slight reduction in tuition.

Kaplan University (Florida) has a "2 + 2" online program in many subjects, based on the completion of an SRJC associate degree. Applicants can earn additional units based on experiential learning. SRJC graduates and employees receive a 10% tuition discount.

Northern Arizona University guarantees admission to their traditional bachelor's degrees for SRJC students who complete the IGETC with at least a 2.5 GPA. Students who have completed at least 24 transferable units with a 2.0 GPA or higher may be considered. CA residents do not pay out-of-state tuition.

Strayer University (Virginia) guarantees admission to their online programs to SRJC associate degree graduates, who also earn credit for all lower division general education requirements, and waives the application fee. Up to 84 SRJC units can be counted toward a Strayer bachelor's degree.

Sullivan University agrees to accept all credit from SRJC's associate degree in Culinary Arts or Restaurant Management for junior transfer to their online Bachelor of Science program in Hospitality Management.

For more information about these transfer agreements, make an appointment with a transfer counselor or come to the Transfer Center in Bussman Hall.

September is Transfer Awareness Month!

The Board of Trustees of Santa Rosa Junior College has acknowledged the importance of the college's transfer mission by declaring September "Transfer Awareness Month". Now is the time to make sure that you know what you need to do to transfer to the university of your choice. In this newsletter you will find a Transfer Student Checklist, information about the transfer process, and a calendar of events and activities designed to help you reach your transfer goal.

APPLY TO CSU/UC FOR FALL 2009 IN OCTOBER/NOVEMBER

Reminder: This year the "priority application period" for the CSU is October 1-November 30. The UC will accept priority applications November 1- December 1. Most UCs will close after December 1 and many CSUs close after November 30.

Information about whether any particular CSU campus remains open after November 30 is available at www.csumentor.edu/filing_status. For information about whether UC campuses remain open after December 1, go to www.universityofcalifornia.edu/admissions/undergrad_adm/apply/apply_majors.html.

All students must now apply to the CSU and UC online. The CSU application is available at www.csumentor.edu beginning on October 1. For the UC application go to www.universityofcalifornia.edu/admissions/undergrad_adm/apply/apply_online.html which is also available beginning on October 1.

Note: Independent (private) schools in California and out-of-state schools have different application periods. Be sure to visit their web site or consult their printed catalog for deadlines.

Application Review

The Transfer Center will offer a series of Application Review sessions in October and November. These are designed for students who have questions about specific items on a completed online CSU or UC application before submitting it. All sessions will be held in the Transfer Center computer lab, Room 1434 Bussman Hall. For assistance in Petaluma, see a counselor.

Alert: The Transfer Center is closed from November 26 through November 28 for the Thanksgiving holiday. Plan to complete your UC application early and come in for a review by November 25.

Thursday, October 2	12:30 - 2:00pm	Friday, November 14	8:30 - 10:00am
Friday, October 10	9:30 - 10:30am	Tuesday, November 18	10:30am - 12noon
Wednesday, October 15	4:30 - 5:30pm	Wednesday, November 19	5:30 - 7:00pm

UC Personal Statement Workshops

The application to the University of California requires a two-part Personal Statement. Come to one of the following workshops to get tips on how to write an effective statement.

Wednesday, November 5	6:00 - 6:30pm	Wednesday, November 19	5:30 - 6:00pm
Thursday, November 6	12:30 - 1:00pm	Thursday, November 20	12:30 - 1:00pm
Friday, November 14	10:00 - 10:30am	Tuesday, November 25	4:00 - 4:30pm

Tips for having someone read your personal statement:

1. Always give someone at least 24 hours to read your Personal Statement and provide feedback.
2. Make sure your reader knows the Personal Statement prompts. (The Transfer Center will send them to counselors, English instructors, and the Tutorial Center.)
3. Ask your reader to answer just two questions:
 - a. Did I address the prompts?
 - b. Did you understand the meaning of my response?
4. Remember that the UC wants to hear your voice, your words - not someone else's.

CSU Instant Admissions

Humboldt State and Sonoma State Universities will again offer Instant Admissions services for students planning to transfer in Fall 2009. Instant Admissions enables you to receive early admission to these campuses based on an in-person evaluation of your academic history and educational plan.

To participate in Instant Admissions for Fall 2009 you must show that, prior to transfer as a junior, you will complete at least 60 CSU-transferable units, among which are 30 units of CSU General Education courses completed with a “C” grade or better. Those 30 GE units must include all of Area A (Oral Communication, Written Communication, and Critical Thinking) and B4 (Quantitative Reasoning). There may be additional course completion deadlines or higher GPA requirements for some majors.

Students interested in Instant Admissions must:

- Verify their transfer readiness. You may do this by meeting with a counselor or printing your Degree Audit from the SRJC Weblink.
- Make an appointment at the Transfer Center for one of the dates listed on page 7.
- Obtain transcripts for all coursework completed
For Sonoma State those transcripts must be official, sealed documents.
For Humboldt State official sealed transcripts must be delivered to the Transfer Center by October 22, 2008.

Come to the Transfer Center in Bussman Hall right away to get ready for Instant Admissions!

Cross Enrollment at SSU

Did you know that you can take classes at Sonoma State while you are still an SRJC student? It’s called “cross enrollment” and here’s how it works: Any student enrolled in at least six units at SRJC (the “home” campus) is allowed to enroll in one class per semester at SSU (the “host” campus). Students must have permission from their home campus, be admitted to host campus classes on a space-available basis, and pay only a $10.00 administration fee.

Cross enrollment is intended to give community college students an opportunity to take lower division courses that are not available at their college or are not formally articulated with the university. It is most appropriate for lower division major preparation. It is also a way for students to gain experience with the university prior to transfer.

Your SRJC counselor can help you decide whether you should take advantage of cross enrollment.

What is a TAG?

Would you like to know at least a year before you transfer exactly which courses you must take and the grades you must earn to guarantee your admission to any UC (except Berkeley or Los Angeles), Humboldt State, San Jose State, Sonoma State, Dominican University, Golden Gate University, or St. Mary’s College?

Such a guarantee exists! It is called a Transfer Admission Guarantee (TAG) and now is the time to apply for a TAG if you want to transfer in Fall 2009.

You may be eligible to enter into a TAG if you have completed enough transferable units and will complete transfer admission requirements. You can find more information about the required number of units and grade point average for each of our TAG university partners at www.santarosa.edu/transfer by selecting “Transfer Guarantees” on the sidebar and linking to the Transfer Admission Agreement Grid.

You must sign your TAG application for Fall 2009 by the following deadlines:

Humboldt State	Nov 30, 2008
Sonoma State	Sept 30, 2008
San Jose State	Oct 29, 2008
UC Davis	Sept 30, 2008
UC Irvine	Nov 20, 2008
UC Merced	Nov 30, 2008
UC Riverside	Oct 31, 2008
UC San Diego	Dec 1, 2008
UC Santa Barbara	Oct 27, 2008
UC Santa Cruz	Oct 10 2008
Dominican Univ.	Nov 30, 2008
Golden Gate Univ.	July 21, 2009
St. Mary’s College	Nov 17, 2008

To sign a TAG application, you must meet with a counselor. To make an appointment you can come to the Transfer Center in Bussman Hall or go to the Counseling Appointment Desk in Bailey Hall. You can also call the Transfer Center at 527.4874 or the Counseling Appointment Desk at 527.4451. Be sure to mention that you are interested in a TAG.

Transfer 1A: University Starts Here

Being a transfer student means that you are beginning your bachelor's degree right here at Santa Rosa Junior College. Here's how it works:

1. Unit requirements: The average bachelor's degree program requires that you complete 120 units. Those units are divided into lower division (freshman and sophomore) and upper division (junior and senior) coursework. You must complete at least 60 units to reach junior standing (upper division status). Like other community colleges, SRJC offers the lower division courses accepted as comparable to the ones that freshmen and sophomores must take at a university (thus, they are transferable). Community colleges do not offer upper division coursework, so you will transfer to a university to complete those units and graduate with a bachelor's degree.

2. Subject requirements: In addition to the unit requirement for your degree, there are subject area requirements. Those requirements may be for general education or major preparation. If you complete all of your subject requirements and have not reached 60 units, you will take elective courses of your choosing before you can transfer.

3. General education: Most of your lower division courses will be for the purposes of general education (GE). For example you must complete at least 48 units of GE to graduate from a California public university, 39 of which are lower division. The GE requirements for independent and out-of-state universities may differ, but the ratio of lower to upper division units is similar. Each institution has its own GE pattern that describes the number of units in each subject area that you must complete for graduation. There are also GE patterns that are accepted by the entire California State University (CSU) and University of California (UC) systems for transfer to any of their campuses. The CSU requires that students complete most of their lower division GE before transfer.

4. Major preparation: Your bachelor's degree will be granted in a specific discipline (your major). The university faculty that teaches in your major determines the unit and subject requirements for the degree. (You will petition to enter your major as a junior.) Among those requirements is lower division major preparation through which you demonstrate interest and ability in your chosen major. Some majors require very little such preparation, while other majors require many courses. Some of the preparation for your major can also be used to meet GE requirements. It is important to choose a major early and find out what preparation you will need to be admitted to your major. The UC requires that students complete most, if not all, of their major preparation before transfer.

5. Grades: Your overall academic performance, as measured by your grade point average (GPA), is another factor in being admitted to a university and earning your degree. There are minimum GPAs (usually around a "C" average) set for transfer students that vary slightly by system or institution. A higher minimum GPA is required for admission to popular campuses or majors. It is important for you to find out how to do well in your classes, in order to increase your transfer choices and chances.

SRJC offers a rigorous course of study to prepare you for success when you transfer. Make an appointment with one of SRJC's transfer counselors to find out more about how to transfer to the university of your choice.

Complete Transfer Requirements ASAP!

It is important that you complete certain minimum general education courses early in your transfer preparation. For the CSU the "golden four" are critical. For the UC, it is the "essential seven". See below for details about these and other minimum transfer requirements. (See a counselor about competitive transfer preparation.) Don't delay! Counselors are available to help you plan your early completion of required courses.

The "golden four" courses for admission to CSU are Area A (Speech, English 1A, and Critical Thinking) and Area B4 (Quantitative Reasoning) from the CSU General Education pattern.

The "essential seven" transferable courses required for admission to UC are: 2 English composition courses, 1 course in Mathematical Concepts/Quantitative Reasoning, and 4 other courses chosen from at least two of the following areas: Arts and Humanities, Social and Behavioral Sciences, Physical and Biological Sciences.

Many of the CSU and UC campuses require that these courses be completed by the end of the spring semester prior to the fall term you plan to attend, by summer for winter/spring transfer. It is NOT advisable to leave the required courses until the semester or summer term just before transfer.

Don't delay! It is important to meet with a counselor to plan your early completion of required courses.

Make a difference: Teach!

Have you thought about becoming a teacher? Would you like more information about teaching careers or the requirements for earning a credential? Would you just like someone to make sure you take the right classes to enter a university teacher preparation program? Santa Rosa Junior College's Teacher Academy brings together the information and services that can help you:

Orientation – The SRJC – A Pathway to Teaching seminar provides a rich overview of the options available for those who want a career in teaching and information about the requirements for becoming a teacher in California.

Counseling – Counselors who are knowledgeable about all aspects of teacher preparation can assist you in developing an educational plan.

Teacher Preparation Paths – SRJC offers a broad range of classes that meet the requirements for:

- Kindergarten through grade 6 multiple-subject majors
- Middle- and high- school single subject majors
- Community college and university discipline majors
- Career Technical subject majors for high school, ROP, and community college occupational programs.

Career Technical (Occupational) Teaching – The State of California has recognized the need to rebuild the occupational education programs in our high schools, adult education programs, and community colleges. An important element in expanding those programs is the training of instructors to teach in them. The Teacher Academy offers services specifically for prospective CTE teachers:

- Connections to university CTE teacher preparation programs
- Guaranteed transfer admission to selected university CTE teacher programs

Are you someone with experience and/or education in an occupational area who would like to teach others what you know? The Teacher Academy can direct you to degree and credential programs that will enable you to do that.

Education Classes – SRJC offers classes that meet the requirements for a course in the multicultural school population and for 45 documented hours of classroom experience. There are two options available to you:

- SRJC's Child 68 (Issues in Diversity) focuses on strategies for working with the diverse populations in our schools. CI 55 (Community Involvement in Education) provides access to 45 hours of classroom experience. The two courses can be taken together or separately.
- Education 250 (Teaching in a Changing World) is offered by Sonoma State University on the SRJC campus through our cross-enrollment agreement. It includes 30 hours of classroom experience.

TRANSFER NETWORKING RESOURCES

Transfer Advocate Program

There are 355 SRJC faculty and staff, representing 128 colleges and universities and 96 majors, who have volunteered to share their college experiences. They can tell you about their alma mater or their field of study. This is especially valuable as a resource for information about out-of-state colleges.

A complete list of TAP faculty and staff is available online at www.santarosa.edu/transfer. Click to view advocates by major or by college under Transfer Advocate Program.

Transfer Student Directory

Network with SRJC students who have successfully moved on to a university! If you have questions about a transfer school or major program you may be able to contact a former SRJC student currently enrolled in that school or major.

Students who transferred last year have volunteered to share their transfer experiences with you. There are 110 students representing 18 colleges and 50 majors listed in the Transfer Student Directory.

Contact the Transfer Center or your counselor to find out how to reach these students to get some inside information and great tips for a smooth transfer process.

OTHER PROGRAMS THAT SUPPORT TRANSFER STUDENTS

EOPS

EOPS is a state-funded program designed to assist low income and educationally disadvantaged students in achieving their academic goals at SRJC. EOPS counselors help SRJC students with admission, counseling, registration and financial aid, as well as other issues that could affect college success.

EOPS students also receive book vouchers to help offset the cost of books and loans for school supplies. There are also special scholarships available to EOPS participants. Once admitted to EOPS students must enroll and complete 12 units and see an EOPS counselor three times per semester, maintaining normal academic progress.

To find out whether you are eligible for EOPS please call the EOPS office at 527-4383 or visit the EOPS House at the corner of Elliot Avenue and Albany Street.

MESA Community College Program

MESA (Mathematics, Engineering and Science Achievement) is an academic support program that was established over 25 years ago in California. It was established to increase the number of under-represented students entering math and science-based careers.

The MESA program at Santa Rosa Junior College helps students to improve their academic performance, to form networks with other students, and to gain more knowledge about math and science-based careers. MESA students become part of a community founded on academics and long-term goals.

If you are majoring in a math or science discipline and interested in transferring to a four-year university, you may be eligible to join MESA. For more information, call Darci Rosales at 524-1859.

Puente Program

The Puente Program emphasizes the Mexican-American/Latino experience for students interested in transferring to four-year colleges and universities. The Puente Program, offered in 75 community colleges throughout California, is open to all students.

Puente is a year-long program, which includes:

- English classes that build confidence in writing skills that will equip students to write at the university level through an exploration of Mexican-American/Latino authors and issues.
- Counselors that assist students in exploring majors and career options, and support students through the transfer process by encouraging the expression and celebration of ethnic identity.
- Mentors who provide a window into real-life work environments and support the student's academic journey.

For more information about the Puente Program, contact Liz Giron (Puente counselor in Santa Rosa) at 524-1701 or Geoff Navarro (Puente Counselor in Petaluma) at 778-3674.

Disability Resources Department

The Disability Resources Department provides students with disabilities equal access to community college education through specialized instruction, disability-related support services, and advocacy.

To qualify for services, a student must have a verifiable disability and be eligible for admission to Santa Rosa Junior College.

DRD offers the following programs and services:

- Acquired Brain Injury Program
- Adapted Physical Education
- Deaf and Hard of Hearing Services
- Enabling Services
- High Tech Center Computer Access Services
- Learning Disabilities Program

DRD offices are located on the Santa Rosa campus in the Analy Village Building C, and at the Petaluma Campus in Jacobs Hall Room 113.
